

About Sandra Bryan Jensen 1939 – 2008

What I've been up to the last 50 years.... As some may remember, I joined the Navy in July 1958. I spent 5 years in the military. I married a fellow sailor and had a son. I trained (in the Navy) as a Medical Technologist. I have worked in various clinics, hospitals etc. as a Medical Technologist for the past 47 years.

I just retired (for the second time) from Lakeland Regional Medical Center, Lakeland, Florida after working there for nearly 32 years. About 10 of those were in the Emergency Department Trauma Center Laboratory. My son, John and his wife, Sara, both work at LRMC and have been there for a number of years.

So, now, that I'm retired what will I be doing??? I have a large yard that needs a lot of attention. My home will get a new face lift and a new kitchen eventually. Traveling will probably not be as much as I'd like it to be. Since my hobby is Genealogy, I hope to get my "stuff" better organized and put together a family history book for my son and grandkids.
